DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3, 5,7,10, 12, 13, 18, and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jeong (US 6,228,211).

Regarding claims 1, 2, 5, 12, 18, and 29: Jeong teaches a tank 1, a drain opening 18, and regulating means (bubbling plate 3 comprising openings 28). See Fig.1.

Regarding claims 3 and 13: Jeong further teaches the use of DI water as element 13 in Fig.1.

Regarding claim 7: Jeong teaches that the bubbling plate comprises slats and openings see Fig. 2a.

Regarding claim 10: Jeong teaches that the slats 23 cover the drain openings.

Regarding the limitation of claim 1 that the regulating means control the downward draining rate and down draining direction of the fluid, the apparatus of Jeong anticipates this in that fluid flows up through plate 3 when entering the tank thru tube 8 and down through the plate when exiting tube 18.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 6 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jeong in view of Shindo et al.

The teachings of Jeong were discussed above.

Jeong fails to teach that the regulating means is made of PEEK.

Shindo et al teaches a wet etching apparatus wherein the cassette 21 is made of PEEK in col. 7 lines 15-18. Shindo et al further details the optimal physical properties of PEEK that would motivate one to use it as a material of construction in the wet etching environment. Based on this citation it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the claimed invention to construct the regulating means of PEEK.

5. Claims 9, 11, 14, 16, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jeong in view of Sonoda et al (US 6,616,774).

The teachings of Jeong were discussed above.

Jeong fails to teach angling the slats with respect to the regulating plate.

Sonoda et al teaches a wet etching apparatus wherein a rectifying means has openings and angled rods (flow ports 24). See Fig. 1 and col. 4 lines 46-53.

These rods are inclined with respect to the bottom of the tank 20.

Art Unit: 1763

The motivation for one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the teachings of Jeong and Sonoda et al is that the inclining helps the contaminants to drain in a more controlled fashion and faster from the tank see col. 2 lines 45-63. Thus, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the claimed invention to combine the teachings of Jeong and Sonoda et al to angle the slats and openings of the regulating means to control the direction and rate of outlet flow.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed November 8, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Jeong teaches a regulating means 3 wherein the fluid flows through the plate in two directions. The holes and slats are provided to control the downward rate and the downward direction of the flow along with the force of gravity as the drain is located at the bottom of the tank.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1763
